

KATHLEEN M. LOUCKS

Kathleen M. Loucks is a member of the firm's Litigation Practice Group, where she represents both businesses and individuals in a broad variety of litigation matters. Kathleen focuses her practice in the following areas:

- General civil litigation
- Medical malpractice and personal injury
- Construction litigation

A former prosecutor and civil litigator for more than six years, Kathleen brings aggressive representation to all of her clients at the state, federal, and appellate levels. She zealously represents families and individuals injured by medical malpractice or catastrophic injury.

In 2006, 2007, 2008 and 2011, Kathleen was named to the *Minnesota Rising Stars*SM list by Minnesota Law & Politics magazine; only 2.5% of young attorneys in the state are chosen each year.

She is on the Advisory Board for the Minnesota Innocence Project, a member of the American Bar Association, Minnesota State Bar Association, Hennepin County Bar Association, Minnesota Women Lawyers Association, and the Minnesota Trial Lawyers Association. Kathleen is a member of the American Association for Justice and the Minnesota Chapter, and she is on the Program Advisory Committee for the Department of Legal Science at the Minnesota School of Business. Furthermore, Kathleen has also taught as an adjunct instructor at Hamline University School of Law and volunteers for Naomi Family Center, Simpson Housing Services, and the Hennepin County Project Homeless Connect.

Kathleen is licensed to practice law in the state courts of Minnesota and Iowa, and the U.S. District Court, District of Minnesota. She obtained her J.D. from William Mitchell College of Law and her B.A. from the University of Minnesota.
